

The Frog in the Well of the Water Museum

Presentation:

Alassane SAMOURA

Sociologist-Anthropologist

Director of the Water Museum of Burkina Faso

3rd International Conference of Global Network of Water Museums

12-15 June 2019 – Valencia, Spain

The Frog in the Well of the Water Museum

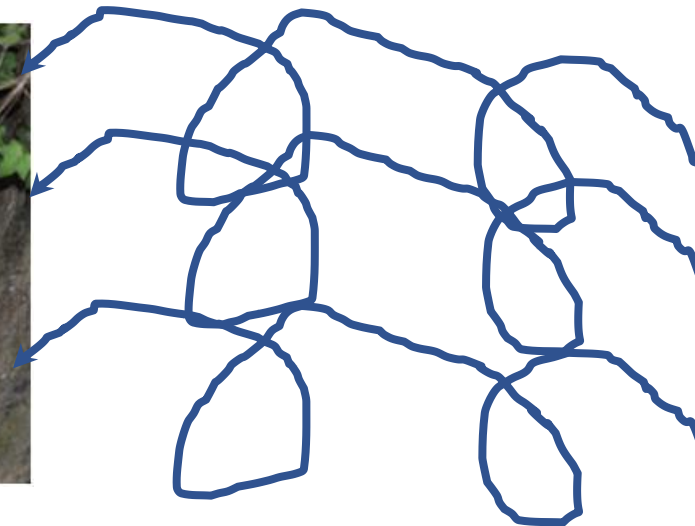

Early in the morning,
the frog takes the road leading to the well of the village

The frog to the toad: comments & gossip

How do you get the news from the village and what are the latest ones, my dear cousin frog?

Ah, the women at the well!
So many comments and gossips!

The turtledove sings for the women of the village

Popular song about water

Joy, enthusiasm, sharing, welcoming, solidarity, communion, charity... are all values and virtues conveyed by water.

The Water Museum

- Here, in the Water Museum, the tangible heritage (utensils, vessels, objects, ropes...) and intangible heritage (proverbs, myths, legends, stories...) of water is displayed. Here is also exposed the desert, the sahel synonymous with water scarcity and the effects of climate change. Current and future generations defend and preserve.

Bad news: Burkina Faso besieged by terrorism

- Health centres emptied because patients are afraid to go there;
- Schools are closed, boreholes abandoned, markets deserted;
- Administrative services interrupted;
- Churches, mosques emptied;
- No tourists come here anymore.
- The Burkina Faso Water Museum, once visited by tourists, students, students and diplomats, has been experiencing a slowdown in visitor numbers for the past three years.

LE CRAPAUD
Le crapaud est
du puits du qual
les nouvelles du par la voie des fer
Quelle em...

Merci pour votre attention! / Thanks for your attention!